GREAT WALKS OF NEW ZEALAND

EST. 1989

Explore | Dream | Discover

New Zealand is well-known for its incredible hiking or ‘tramping’ trails and there are thousands of kilometres of tracks to explore. Nine of the hikes have been identified as ‘Great Walks’ which showcase the magnificent and often dramatic landscapes of New Zealand at their best.

Venturing between Mt Tongariro and Mt Ngauruhoe in the Tongariro National Park, a UNESCO dual World Heritage area, this walk takes in a whole other world. You’ll tramp through an active volcanic landscape peppered with craters, some of which are steaming, lava rocks frozen in time and vivid, emerald green lakes. If the weather is good the views are outstanding, you might even be able to see Mt Taranaki on the western horizon but whatever the weather the Tongariro Alpine Crossing will be one of the finest one-day hikes you ever do.
