

Taking an iconic rail journey is the perfect way to travel between the South Australian city of Adelaide and Alice Springs, heart of the Australian outback. So step aboard The Ghan (this impressive train is a huge kilometre in length) and explore this extraordinary part of Australia.

Platinum Service

This is the highest level of service. Cabins are configured by day as a private lounge with panoramic windows, comfortable seating, a table and ottomans. By night this converts to double or twin beds. You also have a full-size ensuite shower room. Continental breakfast can be enjoyed in your cabin as well as refreshments. The Platinum Club is where the included hearty breakfasts, 2-course lunches and 3-course evening meals, are served along with a complimentary range of beverages.

Gold Service

Gold service cabins are configured with a 3-seater lounge by day, which converts to upper and lower berths by night. Cabins have a private ensuite and the all-inclusive meals are served in the Queen Adelaide Restaurant. Australian wines, beers, a selection of spirits and non-alcoholic beverages are also included. Gold Superior cabins are available which have a little more space and give the option of a three-quarter size double bed plus a fold-down berth.

Day 1 Adelaide

The Ghan departs Adelaide at noon and after settling into your chosen private cabin, you'll make your way to the Queen Adelaide restaurant for lunch, accompanied by your choice of fine wine. As the Ghan rolls north the farmlands of South Australia merge into Mallee scrub and the magnificent Flinders Ranges will fade into the horizon. Enjoy the solitude from the comfort of your cabin or with fellow travellers in the Lounge Car. Dinner this evening is a three course affair enjoyed as darkness falls beyond the window. The menu served focuses on outback gourmet including delights such as a South Australia seafood platter, regional lamb and a cheese board from the Barossa Valley and Limestone Coast.

Meal(s) Included: Lunch & Dinner

Day 2 Alice Springs

Wake with a reviving coffee or juice as you witness a colourful outback sunrise at Marla, in the remote reaches of South Australia. Once back on board brunch is served with your choice of a light bite or something a little more indulgent. Relax as the Ghan makes its way into Alice Springs. This heartland oasis gives you a glimpse into outback living of yesteryear but also the unique lifestyle of today.

Meal(s) Included: Brunch
