

PRESS RELEASE – 11th December 2020

Group C Super Cup Bosch Hockenheim Historic 7-9th May 2021

The fascination with the bygone days of motorsport will be returning for the weekend of 7-9th May 2021 at the Hockenheimring, with the traditional start to the German Historic Motorsport season - the Bosch Hockenheim Historic.

Group C/GTP Racing are pleased to announce the feature race at the Bosch Hockenheim Historic will be the new Group C Super Cup race, suitable for Group C cars from 1982 – 1993. This will be an inaugural standalone event for 2021 and provide an opportunity for current Group C owners to race this classic circuit.

Further details will be published and updated on the Group C www.groupcracing.com and Hockenheim Historic www.hockenheim-historic.de websites.

It was back in July 1985, at the 1000kms WEC race, when these cars were last raced at Hockenheim, with drivers such as Derek Bell, Hans-Joachim Stuck, Stefan Bellof, Bob Wollek, Manfred Winkelhock & Mark Surer at the controls of Porsche 956/962, Jaguar, Sauber Mercedes and Lancia C1 cars.

For the Group C2 category cars Gordon Spice, Ray Bellm, Stanley Dickens, Almo Copelli, Frank Jelinski, Martino Finotto, Carlo Facetti and John Graham were piloting the Spice, Alba and Gebhardt C2 machines.

Thirty Six years later, we will again see and hear the spectacle of both in period and later Group C/IMSA GTP machines bring the Hockenheimring alive at such a great historic motorsport event. The feeling of nostalgia and living history will be in the air when the cars once more set off on this legendary track.

The Bosch Hockenheim Historic - The Jim Clark Revival is an established motorsport event for vintage and young timers that draws large visitor numbers from Germany and throughout Europe to the traditional racing track in Baden each year. With twelve spectacular racing series & more than 500 participants bringing the magic of past racing days back to the time-honoured Motodrom, which has served as the stage for countless memorable racing battles.

We look forward to seeing you at Hockenheim in 2021!
